To Whom It May Concern:

I am more than happy to write this recommendation for Nicole Manwaring, who has been a Family and Consumer Science teacher for our school for the past 3 years. As an administrator, I have observed her classroom instruction as well as performing non-teaching duties which she has fulfilled in the utmost professional manner. In addition to her classroom teaching, Ms. Manwaring is the leader of our FCCLA program and she taken an additional role as advisor for Key Club.

Ms. Manwaring has demonstrated her knowledge of her subject-matter by writing curriculum for her courses and developing the assessments. She has provided solid leadership to the students and fostered a good rapport with them. Ms. Manwaring has demonstrated professional desire to improve her craft and implement best practices that promote student engagement. She has utilized Edmodo to connect students to the classroom 24/7. She has led staff development at Twin Falls High School in the use of Grade Cam. Ms. Manwaring's Senior Food Production class has been awarded first place 2 consecutive years in the area wide Death By Chocolate completion.

Ms. Manwaring understands that education is about kids and uses that basic principle to guide her planning and actions. She cares about providing students with an excellent education and is open to trying innovative ideas to enhance her lessons.

I recommend Nicole Manwaring for any position within her expertise; she would bring excellence to any department.

Sincerely,
